The best way to predict the future is to create it.

Dear Entrepreneurs,

To become a successful entrepreneur, you need to have passion and believe that you will succeed and establish trust in others to believe in you. You must remember that there is always someone better than you around to learn from and exchange ideas with. Gain life experiences and use them in your life's story. You have to learn, read and endure a lot of attempts. Grab opportunities, but always go through them in the right way.

As entrepreneurs, sometimes we fall victims to our fallible imaginations; don't waste time brainstorming, but stick to an idea, develop it, share it with others, and bring it to life. When you fail—and you must—let your eagerness to impact life bring you back up. We are here to create, to impact others, and to fulfill our childhood dreams.

History

After working in government for three years, Waleid Abdulkareim reinvented government service delivery. Established in 2003 in Dubai, Waleid revolutionized outsourcing government services in the UAE and the Arab World to deliver government services quickly and be a “peace of mind provider to the people.” It turns out this was a great business model as the company has grown 236% between 2009 and 2011.

Blending his zest for efficient service with a background in PR, Waleid created OnTime stores that feel more like an Apple store than a government office. At OnTime’s dozens of branded stores, you are greeted with bright lighting, wall sized computer screens, and designer decorated seating. The process moves swiftly until you meet with a welcoming and efficient Emiratis, most of them women. OnTime is the one-stop shop for many government service. Waleid is also proud to employ more than 200 Emiratis.

OnTime is able to deliver services cheaper than the government itself, and the company has expanding relationships with entities such as Tas’heel Service, Dubai Economic Development, Emirates, Dubai Court and Dubai Health Authority, as well as corporate clients. OnTime is expanding its stores throughout the UAE and has plans to operate Middle East-wide, and beyond.

In January 2010, Waleid Abdulkareim received the Professional Service Award from the Mohammed Bin Rashid Establishment for Small and Medium-size (SMS) Enterprises. The award acknowledged the company’s ability to offer its clients the ultimate experience at competitive prices, excellent value and always “On time.”
